Dermatology & Dermatologic Surgery

To my wonderful patients,

I'm writing to announce an exciting change in my practice. No, I am not retiring! In fact, I'll be working about the same. But it's time for me to begin a transition to a type of practice where I will be able to cut back, and to share some of the workload. Beginning August 1st of this year I will be merging my practice with Northwest Dermatology Institute and moving to their beautiful building. While it will be a new location, it will be mostly business as usual.

Importantly, my Medical Assistants of 26, 20 and 5 years, Lara, Traci and Shari, will be moving with me. For many of you, and me, that is critical! The new office utilizes a similar medical record system, and all of your information will transfer seamlessly.

I will be joining what I consider to be one of the premier dermatology groups in the Northwest. They are comprised of two well-established medical dermatologists, Drs. Janet Roberts and Nisha Desai, and two physician assistants, Kerianne McKeon and Eileen McNulty. The advantages of this group cannot be overstated: high-end medical and surgical care, the availability of female practitioners, cosmetic injectable services, plus they are national specialists in diseases of the hair and scalp. As well, they have a certified advanced aesthetician with multiple lasers, medical grade peels and facials, and access to a broad range of cosmetic products.

All of this in a beautiful, new, state-of-the-art, walk-right-in medical building, all on one floor, with easy, immediately adjacent free parking and elevators. No more full parking lot or finicky entry/exit meters. It is located on the corner of NW 25th Ave and NW Lovejoy St, just 3 blocks away from my current practice, so the transition should be effortless.

I sought out this practice because, first and foremost, they practice medicine and dermatology the same way I do. And, as I said, you can continue to see me, and I truly hope you do. But whoever on the team you see over the years, you will be in competent hands. That is the very basis of my decision. I am very excited about this because I truly believe it will be great for all of you as well as me. I finally have associates with whom I can share the work, and from whom I can learn; and you have more care options and easier access than ever.

I believe that we, as a team, from the front office to the back, will make each one of you glad you came to my new office. Please call me if you have any questions or concerns. I hope I see you there soon!

Sincerely,

Bert G Tavelli, MD
